BAN JOHNSON IS COMING TO WASHINGTON FOR JOB

By LOUIS A. DOUGHER.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, is due to arrive in Washington next week. He is coming here ostensibly to make arrangements to go to France to serve his country in whatever capacity the Government may desire. He has already offered his services, but has yet to have them accepted.

Though rumors continue to chase themselves around the land that the local American League franchise is to be shifted before the opening of the 1918 season, it is unlikely that Johnson will do much talking about it. He has denied it, not once, but several times, and he will hardly be willing to discuss the matter again.

The other rumor, that Walter Johnson has been sold to the Cleveland club, is contingent upon the truth of the first. If the Washington franchise is to go away from here it may be all right to sell Johnson. If it isn't, the local management will be pulling the worst of "boners" to part with its best pitcher and only real drawing card.

Washington is destined to be one lively baseball town within a few weeks, for the second suit of the Baltimore Federal League club will fight its case against organized baseball before the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. The magnates, with one victory to their credit, do not mean to allow the enemy to take anything by default. Therefore, the Capital is destined to entertain all the lords of the national pastime before many days have gone their way.

The Washington firm of Douglas, O'Neal & Douglas has obtained permission for Attorney Samuel M. Clement, Jr., of Philadelphia, to be admitted to practice before the District of Columbia Supreme Court. Clement has accepted service on behalf of the big leagues, and the individual defendants, all owners of baseball clubs, and he promises that the battle will go clear to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Seeking Large Sum.
The plaintiffs are seeking damages of $300,000 under the punitive clause of the anti-trust laws. Victory means that the former Federal League will collect $300,000, enough to smash baseball to small, teeny-weeny bits.

The Federal claim, through cash contributions and by persuasion and intimidation, the lords of baseball caused some of the Federal League clubs to withdraw from the circuit, thus bringing about a loss of $300,000 to them.

Last week the National League magnates met in New York and made plans for action in this suit. The magnates make no bones about saying that they will fight the former Baltimore Feds tooth and nail, carrying the case to the highest tribunals of the country, if need be.

George Wharton Pepper, the noted Philadelphia attorney, is expected to be active in the defense of organized baseball before the District's Supreme Court.

Keeping right up with the others

PITTSBURGH TEAM IS MAKING STAB AT FOOTBALL TITLE

Glenn Warner's Pittsburgh eleven is making great strides toward annexing the 1917 football championship of the East. The Smokies' eleven is heavy, aggressive and fast, a wonderful combination. The victory over West Virginia showed better than anything else the power of the Pittsburghers, for the conquerors of Rutgers, and next Saturday will entertain Bob Fowlie's Pennsylvanians. If these two games finish on the right side, Pitt will be a long shot for the title.

Just what Washington and Lee has in the way of football strength should be known by what is done today at Atlanta against Georgia Tech. The Tech eleven swamped Penn, 41 to 0, and should win. The Generals are greatly weakened, having but three veterans from last year's team.

Dartmouth's clash with West Virginia, Colgate's contest with Cornell, Navy's battle with the Carlisle Indians, Michigan's meeting with the Michigan Aggies and Georgetown's visit to Lehigh are the other more important games of the day.

AUBURN IS WINNER.
CLEMSON, S. C., Oct. 20.—Auburn won a hard-fought football contest from Clemson here yesterday, 7 to 0.
